COL DEL VALENTINO

CHARDONNAY PROVINCIA DI PAVIA IGT

This grape, now cultivated in all the world, thanks to the climate and the soils finds in our territory an ideal land for its grapes to give excellent wines. Chardonnay is one of the last wines produced by our cellar, and the young vineyards, which have been in production since a few years, give a wine with the prospect of becoming one of our firm's leading wines. The grapes are harvested strictly by hand after careful selection. The white vinification begins with a soft pressing to separate the skins from the must, which is clarified and poured into stainless steel tanks, where it is fermented at controlled temperatures. After racking and stabilization it is microfiltered and bottled. Before being marketed, it is refined in bottle in our cellars.
